SHOWING & OPEN HOME CHECKLIST

Once your home is on the market, real estate agents may call to schedule a showing at any time—morning, afternoon, or evening. Keeping your home “show-ready” can be a challenge, especially if you have kids or pets. This checklist will help make the process easier so your home shines for potential buyers.

✓ Declutter to Impress

A clutter-free home looks bigger, cleaner, and more inviting. Plus, sorting through everything now will make moving easier later. If you have a lot of extra belongings, collections, or sentimental items, consider renting a small storage unit for a few months to keep things tidy.

✓ Sort, Donate, and Toss

Go through your belongings and decide what to keep, donate, or throw away. Donating items can benefit others and even provide tax deductions, while getting rid of clutter will help your home feel more spacious and organized.

✓ Secure Valuables

Keep jewelry, collectibles, and other valuable items in a safe place—whether that’s a safety deposit box, a locked drawer, or a secure storage area. This gives you peace of mind during showings.

✓ Pack Away Fragile Items

If you have delicate figurines, china, or other breakables, it’s best to pack them up and store them safely in the garage or another secure space. This avoids any accidents while potential buyers walk through your home.

✓ Stage with Warmth

You want buyers to picture themselves living in your home, so make it feel inviting. Set the table with a nice arrangement, drape a cozy throw over the couch, or place a stylish book on the coffee table. Small touches like these help create a welcoming atmosphere.

✓ Have a Quick Cleanup Plan

Showings can sometimes happen with little notice. Instead of scrambling last-minute, have a family plan in place. Assign tasks—someone tidies up countertops, another picks up newspapers and dishes, and everyone chips in to make the home look its best.

✓ Make Tidying Up a Daily Habit

Simple routines can make a huge difference. Wash dishes right after meals, wipe down counters, and make the beds each morning. Keep pet toys and bedding fresh to eliminate odors. These small daily habits will keep your home in top shape for any unexpected showings.

✓ Don’t Forget the Garage and Attic

Buyers will want to check out storage space, so make sure your garage and attic are clean and organized. A well-kept storage area can help them see the full potential of your home.

THE QUICK 5-MINUTE CLEAN-UP BEFORE A SHOWING

When you're short on time before a home showing, this simple checklist will help you make the best impression in just a few minutes.

✓ Grab a Basket and Tidy Up

Everyone in the house should take a quick lap with a basket, picking up clutter—shoes, mail, toys, or anything else lying around. Also, check for any potential hazards, like toys or loose rugs that could be tripping risks.

✓ Take Care of Pets

If possible, bring pets with you, use a crate, or arrange for pet daycare. Make sure any pet-related items (like beds, bowls, and litter boxes) are clean and out of sight. If you have a large dog, be sure to note it in the listing instructions so agents and buyers know in advance. Buyers with allergies will also appreciate a heads-up about any pets in the home.

✓ Let in the Light

Bright, airy homes feel more inviting. Open the curtains, turn on lights in every room, and create a warm, welcoming atmosphere.

✓ Give Buyers Space

Buyers should never visit your home alone—they'll always be with an agent. However, your presence can make them feel uncomfortable or rushed. Step out and let them explore freely so they can truly picture themselves living in your home.

By following these quick steps, you'll ensure your home looks its best—even on short notice!
